Broag Ltd

Broag Ltd is based in Wokingham and is part of the De Dietrich-Remeha Group

Leading the world in condensing technology

Broag UK is part of Broag-Remeha, one of Europe's leading commercial and domestic heating companies and a pioneer in condensing boiler technology.

Since the company launched the first condensing boiler over 30 years ago, and has been at the forefront of this exciting technology, increasing efficiency and creating the standard for reliability.

Today, the group employs over 2,400 staff and is acknowledged as a leading edge manufacturer of heating solutions for both commercial and domestic use.

In the UK, the partnership approach to specification, service and support combined with exceptional product range has led to an impressive installed base with professional users. The recent launch into the domestic market looks set to achieve similar popularity.

New Business Interiors worked with Brian Price, Managing Director at Broag to design and plan the new reception area including colour scheme's.

Our challenge on this project was the time frame. We received the works order from Broag on 12th November, the works needed to be completed by 12th December in time for a company sales meeting taking place at Wokingham on 13th December.

We worked with the furniture manufacturers to ensure that the furniture was available and could be installed within the time frames.

At the customers request we also carried out additional works to repair mastic area's around existing windows and flashing.

Client Comment:

For us it was about tight deadlines, we had three weeks to complete this project, so it was to New Business Interiors teams great credit that they delivered the solution we wanted in the time-scale allocated. We will continue to work with New Business Interiors on various future projects.
